Walkabouts by ActivEd named 2024 EdTech Digest Award Finalist in the Curriculum & Instruction Category

GREENVILLE, SC, April 11, 2024 – Walkabouts, the proprietary movement and learning platform by ActivEd, has been recognized as a Finalist in the 2024 EdTech Digest Awards for Curriculum & Instruction.

Celebrating its 14th year, EdTech Digest's EdTech Awards are the world's largest recognition program for education technology, recognizing the biggest names in edtech, as well as those who are promising innovators and trendsetters.

This year's finalists and winners were narrowed from the larger field and judged based on various criteria, including: pedagogical workability, efficacy and results, support, clarity, value, and potential.

“Warm and hearty congratulations to all The EdTech Awards 2024 finalists and winners – very, very well done! The barriers education technology leaders have overcome in the last few years to make it to where they are today – well, that's a cause for celebration!” said Victor Rivero, Editor-in-Chief of EdTech Digest, who oversees the program.

Featuring edtech's best and brightest, the annual program shines a spotlight on cool tools, inspiring leaders, and innovative trendsetters across the K-12, Higher Education, and Skills and Workforce sectors.

“To earn this recognition from EdTech Digest and be included with the other exceptional companies in our category is real honor,” said Dr. Julian A. Reed, ActivEd CEO and Founder. “Walkabouts has been a labor of love for the ActivEd team as we are passionate about integrating the science of movement and learning into lessons for elementary age students. Helping teachers and students reach their full potential is at the heart of everything we do.”
